DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE SAYS CASH BOTH CHECKS

Hundreds of married couples in Arizona have called the Arizona Department of Revenue (DOR) because they have received two refund checks from the state. In most cases, they are for the same amount and appear to be duplicate checks, but they're not. These checks are the first installment ordered in the court settlement of the Estate of Helen H. Ladewig v. Arizona Department of Revenue, No. TX97-00075 class action lawsuit.

"If you and your spouse each received a refund check, please cash them both," advised Dan Zemke, DOR spokesperson.

"It's not a mistake, and you are entitled to both since the total refund has been split between spouses. Please read the explanation that came with each check."

The court settlement covers Arizona taxes paid for the years 1986 through 1989. Because Arizona is a community property state and many of the Ladewig claimants changed marital status since 1986, each spouse is being treated as a separate claimant. For years in which married filing jointly returns were filed, one half of the calculated refund amount is being given to

ARIZONA CRACKS DOWN ON ILLEGAL CIGARETTES

NR04017, August 19, 2004

PHOENIX—Sellers and consumers of untaxed cigarettes in Arizona or on the Web may soon be facing stiff fines and a felony charge.

Starting August 25, Arizona will join a growing number of states cracking down on illegal mail-order and Internet cigarette sales to minors and people who are evading state tobacco tax. The State Legislature and Governor Napolitano enacted new laws and tripled the size of the tobacco tax enforcement staff for the Arizona Department of Revenue (DOR) to help stem the tide of illegal sales.

Online cigarette vendors are a growing segment of the tobacco retailing industry. Studies project that online cigarette purchases will constitute anywhere from 6 to 14 percent of the total U.S. market by 2005. A Fiscal Economics, Inc. estimate pegs state and local government tax revenue losses nationally at $552.4 million for the 2003 fiscal year when Internet sales were believed to be 2% of total cigarette sales. This would translate to approximately $12 million lost revenue for Arizona. Arizona currently collects state cigarette tax at a rate of $1.18 per pack.

State law will now require all Internet and mail-order sellers that ship cigarettes and certain other tobacco products to Arizona consumers to file monthly reports with DOR that list the names, addresses, and purchases of their customers. Sellers will also collect and report data verifying the age of their prospective customers, and certify that they have collected all Arizona taxes owed on purchases. Shippers contracted by sellers to deliver the cigarettes to consumers will also be required to verify the identity and age of whoever signs for the deliveries.

Sellers and shippers face substantial penalties for evading the new laws, including criminal felony prosecution and fines as great as $5,000 or 5 times the price of the cigarettes purchased. All illegally shipped cigarettes are subject to seizure and will be forfeited to the state.

Arizona consumers can face the same penalties as sellers and delivery services for purchasing illegal cigarettes and will be liable for tax and any applicable interest and penalties, which could include a fine of 5 times the price of the cigarettes purchased. Minors that violate the law are still liable for the monetary penalties but charged with only a petty offense.

Aside from blocking illegal cigarettes from out-of-state sources, DOR's tobacco enforcement staff is ferreting out unsavory local sellers. Sandra Schwartz, the agency's Criminal and Civil Investigations Administrator, reports that about 57,360 illegal cigarettes have been seized so far in the first half of August, most of which consists of counterfeit, off-brand, and untaxed products.

In addition to increased enforcement efforts, DOR is also launching a "Check the Pack" public awareness campaign that targets Arizona consumers. The advertisement reminds cigarette buyers to check the wrappers on their cigarette packs for Arizona tax stamps, which show that tax has been paid.

More information on the new laws is available on DOR's website, www.revenue.state.az.us.

A.R.S. §§ 43-1074 and 43-1161 to allow enterprise zone credits at a zone location unless more than ten percent of the business at the zone location consists of retail sales of tangible personal property.

Amends A.R.S. § 41-1525 and amends A.R.S. §§ 43-1074 and 43-1161 to provide that taxpayers may claim second and third year credits for taxable year 2002 and third year credits for taxable year 2003 when the first year credit was claimed on an amended return if the qualified employment positions were created prior to January 1, 2002 and certified to the Department of Commerce.

Sections 41-1525, 43-1074 and 43-1161, Arizona Revised Statutes, as amended by this act, apply retroactively to taxable years beginning from and after December 31, 2003.

HB 2549 (Chapter 326)

Healthy Forests; Tax Credits

An emergency measure that allows a Healthy Forest Enterprise Assistance Program to be established and provides transaction privilege (TPT), use and income tax incentives for qualified businesses until 2014 and allows the state to contract for electrical energy produced from biomass resources. The bill also authorizes cities, towns and counties to adopt and periodically revise an urban-wildland interface code, makes the State Forester a position separate from the State Land Commissioner, establishes the State Urban-Wildland Fire Safety Committee and requires that the State Forester identify pilot programs to promote forest health.

This act is an emergency measure that is necessary to preserve the public peace, health or safety and is operative immediately as provided by law.

Approved By The Governor June 3, 2004.

SB 1003 (Chapter 214)

Income Tax Exemption; Stillborn Children

SB 1003 provides that a taxpayer is allowed an income tax exemption of $2,300 for each birth for which a certificate of birth resulting in stillbirth has been issued from the Arizona Department of Health Services if the child otherwise would have been a member of the taxpayer's household. The taxpayer may claim the exemption in the year in which the stillbirth occurred. This act applies retroactively to taxable years beginning from and after December 31, 2003.

SB 1389 (Chapter 196)

Internal Revenue Code; Partial Conformity

SB 1389 is the annual bill to make conforming changes to the state income tax code to correspond with the federal changes to the Internal Revenue Code. The bill:

1. Conforms to the internal revenue code including retroactive conformity to the effective dates of all provisions of the Jobs and Growth Tax Relief Reconciliation Act of 2003, the Military Family Tax Relief Act of 2003, and the Medicare Prescription Drug, Improvement, and Modernization Act of 2003.

2. Suspends the statute of limitations to allow taxpayers to claim refunds resulting from retroactive conformity to the provisions of the Military Family Tax Relief Act of 2003. For federal income tax purposes, P.L. 108-121 amended I.R.C. § 121 to allow an election for military and Foreign Service personnel to ignore the time spent on extended duty (up to 10 years) in order to meet the two-out-of-five year requirement needed to exclude gain on the sale of personal residences. The federal provision is effective for sales or exchanges after May 6, 1997 and provides a one-year period (beginning on the date of enactment) for taxpayers to claim refunds as a result of this provision that are otherwise barred by the statute of limitations. Under the Arizona conformity bill, taxpayers may also file an amended Arizona return at any time before the close of the one-year period beginning on November 11, 2003.
3. Requires an add-back of the federal section 179 expense deducted in excess of twenty-five thousand dollars but allows it to be subtracted ratably over a five-year period. Therefore, all taxpayers that deducted I.R.C. § 179 expenses in excess of $25,000 will have to file an amended Arizona income tax return to add the amount in excess of $25,000 to Arizona gross income and to take a subtraction for 1/5 of the amount in excess of $25,000.
4. Requires all taxpayers to add the amount of depreciation allowed under I.R.C. § 167(a). The bill also requires taxpayers to compute depreciation for Arizona purposes as if bonus depreciation had not been elected for federal purposes. Therefore, all taxpayers that claim depreciation on the federal return must add that depreciation to Arizona gross income on the Arizona return and then take a subtraction for the allowable amount. This provision is retroactive and applies retroactively to taxable years beginning from and after December 31, 1999. The 2004 income tax returns will be modified to accommodate this adjustment. However, for taxable years prior to 2004, this provision will really affect taxpayers that depreciated luxury autos. This amendment will allow taxpayers to depreciate luxury autos for which the taxpayer has claimed federal bonus depreciation using the same depreciation rate that

UNCLAIMED PROPERTY HOLDER COMPLIANCE INITIATIVE

In an effort to promote compliance with Arizona Revised Statutes which relate to unclaimed property, the Unclaimed Property Holder Compliance Unit has implemented a new user-friendly holder compliance initiative. The initiative, which began prior to the end of the last fiscal year, is designed to promote awareness of unclaimed property reporting requirements and increase knowledge of the various types of unclaimed property.

Selected businesses that are likely to hold unclaimed property are being sent participation letters from the Holder Compliance Unit along with the State of Arizona Publication 601, Unclaimed Property Reports. This publication contains the report forms, property checklists, and instructions for completing the reports and filing instructions. The letter also offers an alternative to an official audit. The businesses are offered an opportunity to do a "self-audit" or review with or without assistance from the holder compliance auditors. There is a second incentive to use this program. Each holder who does a self audit receives a waiver of all penalties, up to $5000 plus 25% of property reported, and interest, 18 % per year, and past due reports will be considered timely filed.

The success of this initiative has been much greater than expected. Last year, 119 holders were brought into compliance and 20 more within the first month of this fiscal year. Holders who have not received a letter and want to take advantage of this initiative may contact the Holder Compliance Unit at 602-716-6034 for additional information.

each spouse. Nearly 450,000 checks totaling roughly $125 million are being mailed by August 20. These checks are 50% of the amount owed to claimants in accordance with the settlement agreement approved by the court. Additional installments will be mailed in July of 2005 and 2006.

If the refund has been issued in the name of a deceased claimant, a Form 131, Claim for Refund on Behalf of Deceased Taxpayer, is required to have the refund reissued in a different name. Form 131 is available on the DOR Internet website, www.revenue.state.az.us, or it can be requested by calling the Ladewig information number, (602) 542-0700.

would have been allowed if the taxpayer had not claimed bonus depreciation. These taxpayers will be able to amend a prior year return to make this adjustment, or as an alternative, the taxpayer may elect to recognize the entire cumulative effect of the retroactive change on the tax return for the first taxable year ending on or after December 31, 2003 instead of recognizing the changes on those prior year returns.

5. Allows taxpayers to claim a subtraction to reflect the difference in federal and state basis of bonus depreciation property when that property is sold. This provision is retroactive and applies retroactively to taxable years beginning from and after December 31, 1999. A taxpayer may file an amended return to make this adjustment for a prior year, or as an alternative, the taxpayer may elect to recognize the entire cumulative effect of the retroactive change on the tax return for the first taxable year ending on or after December 31, 2003 instead of recognizing the changes on those prior year returns.

This act is an emergency measure that is necessary to preserve the public peace, health or safety and is operative immediately as provided by law. Approved By The Governor May 5, 2004.

IRS REISSUES CONSUMER WARNING ON IDENTITY THEFT SCHEME

IR-2004-104, August 3, 2004

WASHINGTON – The Internal Revenue Service has renewed its warning about a fraudulent scheme targeting non-resident aliens who have income from a United States source. The IRS has seen signs the scheme is spreading in the Caribbean area.

Caribbean countries in which this scheme has surfaced include Barbados, Puerto Rico, Tobago, Trinidad and the Turks & Caicos Islands. Earlier this year, the scheme appeared in South America and Europe.

The scheme uses fictitious IRS correspondence and an altered IRS form in an attempt to trick the foreign persons into disclosing their personal and financial data. The information fraudulently obtained is then used to steal the taxpayer's identity and financial assets. The practice is called "phishing" for information.

"'Phishing' in Caribbean waters for valuable information from potential victims is an old scam in a new place," said IRS Commissioner Mark W. Everson. "Taxpayers should be wary of strangers trying to obtain sensitive personal information, whether it's in person, over the phone, through the mail or over the Internet."

Generally, identity thieves use someone's personal data to steal his or her financial accounts, run up charges on the victim's existing credit cards, apply for new loans, credit cards, services or benefits in the victim's name and even file fraudulent tax returns.

In this particular scam, an altered IRS Form W-8BEN, "Certificate of Foreign Status of Beneficial Owner for United States Tax Withholding," is sent with correspondence purportedly from the IRS to non-resident aliens who have invested in U.S. property, such as securities or bonds, and therefore have U.S.-sourced income. The correspondence claims that the recipient will be taxed at the maximum rate unless the requested personal and financial data is entered onto the form and the form is faxed to the phone number contained in the correspondence.

The correspondence's threat is baseless. In reality, the rate at which a non-resident alien pays tax to the U.S. depends on the terms of the tax treaty the U.S. has with the foreign person's country.

There are about 2.5 million non-resident aliens who receive U.S.-sourced income, based on the number of Forms 1042-S that were issued last year. The 1042-S is used to report the amount of U.S. income a non-resident alien earned in that year and the taxes that were withheld.

The phony W-8BEN form asks the recipient for detailed personal and financial information, such as:

- Date of birth
- Social Security number
- Passport number
- Bank name
- Account number, type and date opened
- E-mail address
- Profession
- Day-time phone number
- How often the recipient visits the U.S.
- Information on the recipient's spouse, children and parents

There is a legitimate IRS Form W-8BEN, which is used to establish the non-resident alien's foreign status and to determine whether the foreign person is subject to withholding of taxes. However, the genuine IRS Form W-8BEN does not ask for any of the personal information above, except, in some cases, for a Social Security or IRS-generated Taxpayer Identification Number.

In addition, genuine Forms W-8BEN are sent to the recipients by their financial institution, not by the IRS. The financial institution — whether bank, brokerage firm, insurance company or other — acts as the non-resident alien's withholding agent for any income subject to U.S. income tax that the foreign person received from a U.S. source. The W-8BEN is used by the financial institution to establish the appropriate tax withholding or to determine whether their customers meet the criteria for remaining exempt from tax reporting requirements.

The real Form W-8BEN can be found on the IRS's Web site at www.irs.gov in the "Forms and Publications" section.

The Treasury Inspector General for Tax Administration investigates a wide variety of offenses, including identity theft related to tax administration. TIGTA has already received a number of complaints from targets of this scheme and has opened an investigation. Non-resident aliens who have received a fraudulent letter and form should report this to TIGTA by calling the toll-free fraud referral hotline at 1-800-366-4484, faxing a complaint to 202-927-7018 or writing to the TIGTA Hotline, P.O. Box 589, Ben Franklin Station, Washington, D.C. 20044-0589. TIGTA's Web site is located at www.ustreas.gov/tigta.
